“We are excited to offer even more low fare service for Detroit with this new flight,” said Daniel Shurz, chief commercial officer. “Metro Detroit has responded positively to our Low Fares Done Right philosophy allowing us to add our first non-stop to the Sunshine State from Detroit.”

“Orlando is currently our customers’ second-most preferred destination from Detroit and for that reason, was one of our top priorities for new air service,” said Thomas Naughton, Airport Authority CEO. “Our customers love to have choices when scheduling their travel plans so this is good news all around.”

In addition to the new Orlando service, Frontier also flies non-stop from Detroit to Denver; Trenton, N.J.; and Washington – Dulles.

Below is a summary of the new service:

About Detroit Metro Airport

Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport (DTW) welcomed more than 32.5 million passengers in 2014 and is one of the world's leading air transportation hubs. With service from 13 scheduled passenger airlines, Michigan's largest airport offers more than 1,100 flights per day to and from nearly 150 non-stop destinations on four continents. In 2010, DTW ranked highest in overall customer satisfaction among large airports in the J.D. Power and Associates North America Airport Satisfaction Study. With two award-winning passenger terminals, six jet runways, and an onsite AAA Four-Diamond Westin Hotel, DTW is among the world's most efficient, customer friendly and operationally capable airports in North America. DTW is operated by Wayne County Airport Authority, which also operates nearby Willow Run Airport – an important corporate, cargo and general aviation facility. The Airport Authority is entirely self-sustaining and does not receive tax dollars to support airport operations. Visit www.metroairport.com for more information.
